Giving Back

Oakwood is a member of many civic and trade organizations. Employees participate in causes personally significant to them. We believe that giving back is important to the health and well-being of our employees, as well as the communities we live in. It doesn't take a lot to offer up a few hours of your time to do something important, rewarding and inspiring.

Core Values

- We encourage responsible risk-taking to find bold solutions
- We foster personal and professional growth
- Hard work is our foundation and humor is our mortar
- We actively seek opportunities to help our clients, our team, and ourselves through knowledge sharing, volunteering, and community participation
- It's our firm belief that helping others is a participatory sport
- We are inspired to push outside of our comfort zone and thank those who motivate us to take that risk
- We encourage everyone to lead through their attitude and approach

Work-Life Integration

We know that everyone has a story. We are not just defined by our job or our title. Or by our careers success. Oakwood appreciates and seeks out those who find fulfillment in a life outside of the Oakwood walls. Our diversity, our passions and our time away from work provide each of us with depth and ultimately make our lives richer. Outside of work, you'll find many of us shooting hoops, running marathons, spending time with our families, involved in community efforts, and investing our time in charitable activities.
