

---

Charles Windsor

President | CEO

Welcome to Oakwood Systems. We've been helping businesses just like yours accomplish the most challenging business problems. Oakwood is a classic IT services consulting business focused on the digital, managed services and infrastructure sectors. You'll benefit from a tremendously talented group of consultants who continue to pass the test with challenging onsite and remote engagements. Technology has been changing rapidly. How has this impacted your company? Fortunately, Oakwood has stayed ahead of those changes, bringing innovation, thought leadership, discipline, and solid delivery-led execution to thousands of clients locally, nationally and internationally.

---

Tonja Hilton

VP | Finance and Administration

Hello and thank you for visiting us. Companies that we proudly serve need specific expertise. With our technology resource talent pool, we bring the highest level of expertise to our clients. Our teams hit the ground running, and in the end, their work has a direct impact on your profitability, customer growth, and retention. Many clients stay with us for years. That's a testament to our track record of success and a diligent, disciplined delivery approach. We truly do make a difference, for businesses of all sizes, and I'm excited about helping your organization.

---

Chris Daly

Director | Application Managed Services

Hello and welcome to Oakwood. I head up our application managed services business. Managed Services allows Oakwood to do the heavy lifting of your internal server-based workloads and data assets. We'll define whether a full cloud implementation or a hybrid model makes the most sense. You'll be able to re-allocate resources to other areas of your business while we monitor and manage your critical business assets, 24x7x365. We cloud host with both Amazon Web Services and Microsoft Azure. Let's chat about your current setup and how I can save you money, lighten your load and provide you greater peace of mind.

---

Shad Moss

Senior Director | Application Development

Hello, I'm Shad, the leader of our Digital Group. I deliver client solutions across the full application development spectrum - including digital, UI/UX, web, mobile, backend applications, business intelligence, collaboration, and integration. We build trusted client partnerships through delivery excellence with a commitment to always exceed your expectations. What can you expect? We move quickly to define scope, determine a timeline, work within your budget and get excited to start your project. I look forward to moving your business forward very soon with our best-in-class technologists.

---

Name *

Email *

Message *

Message

Send Message