

The workplace is evolving rapidly, and employees have new expectations for work and how it should get done.

Business leaders are embracing these changes and supporting a new culture of work. This means...

- Collaborating in real time
- Having always-on access to files and data
- Flexibility to work from wherever, whenever
- Staying safe and secure

Business leaders recognize that people are at the core of how each of their companies operate and it's imperative to empower their employees to innovate and grow in a competitive landscape.

At the same time, companies are faced with the challenge of protecting their people and IP in a more complex threat environment.

Companies are constantly looking for solutions to enable a modern workplace for their employees.

Microsoft 365 brings together the best of Windows 10, Office 365, and Enterprise Mobility + Security into an integrated solution to empower employees.

Microsoft 365 delivers value for customers across four core areas.

The first two - creativity and teamwork - are about delivering a great end user experience for everyone in an organization, enabling them to be creative, productive, and collaborative.

The second two - simplicity and security - are about how Microsoft delivers those experiences on a platform that provides low TCO, the highest levels of security, and a flexible management infrastructure.

A great example of how one organization leveraged the powers of Microsoft 365 is Qantas Airlines.

Qantas re-energized their entire team by switching to a cloud infrastructure and modernizing their desktops. The cloud gives them access to the data they need quickly while ensuring their team can collaborate and communicate effectively while on the go. And for a team whose workforce is flying across the world on a daily basis, that flexibility is key.

By upgrading their IT infrastructure, Qantas now has the ability to collaborate more effectively and their leadership team can decentralize decision making, greatly increasing productivity and bringing them the security they need. Microsoft 365 helps their team care for customers in a way that's never been done before and that's good for business!

While your business might not be as distributed Qantas, flexibility for your employees is still important in today's modern digital world. At Oakwood Systems Group, Inc., we know the ins and outs of creating customized modern desktops. If you're considering updating your IT infrastructure to a modern desktop solution, contact us today.
